In such cases, the case coming forward early must meet the same standard and follow the same timetables mutatis mutandis as for cases brought forward on the usual schedule. Failure to attain tenure early shall result in the Faculty Member being considered again at the normal time subject to any provision for delay as set out in this Article. - c) A member of the Faculty Review Committee must absent themselves from cases where they have a conflict of interest. In these cases, the Committee shall function with a reduced number of members. Should the number of conflicts in a particular case equal more than two (2), the Dean shall appoint (an) alternate tenured faculty member(s) either from the list of members who were nominated but not elected in accordance with the highest number of votes received, or at the Dean's discretion if there are none on the list, to ensure that there is a minimum of three (3) members on the Committee for each case.
- d) The Faculty Review Committee shall be supplied with all of the documentation listed in Article 20.11 a) which the Committee shall carefully consider.

28.14 Court Leave

- a) Upon written request, a Faculty Member shall be granted leave without loss of pay when summoned to serve for jury duty or jury selection, or when subpoenaed as witness to court proceedings to which the Faculty Member is not a party.

- b) Upon return to work, the Faculty Member shall provide the Employer with written confirmation of the date(s) and time(s) on which they served.
- c) The Faculty Member shall provide the Dean with as much notice as possible of such court proceedings so that alternative coverage can be arranged.
- d) No court leave afforded under this Article shall extend beyond the original end date of the limited term Faculty Member's contract.

Article 29 – Intellectual Property

- 29.01 Intellectual property shall be administered according to the Intellectual Property policy as appended in Appendix "D" to this Agreement. For clarity, the appended version of the policy shall apply for this Agreement, until an amended Intellectual Property policy is developed and incorporated into this Agreement under the terms of the Letter of Understanding re Intellectual Property, dated March 16, 2016 and amended on February 25, 2019, as mutually agreed to by the Parties.
- 29.02 Notwithstanding the provisions 6.3(a) of the Intellectual Property policy, the Employer retains the right to negotiate with (a) Faculty Member(s), dependent on factors pertinent to the particular fact situation, a percentage share of commercialization that is of lesser value for the University.
- 29.03 Disputes that may arise with respect to the outcome of the application of the Intellectual Property policy, and for which the parties are solely the Employer and a Faculty Member(s), shall not be resolved through the Dispute Resolution procedure of the Intellectual Property policy or the grievance and arbitration procedure set out in Article 11 of this Agreement. Such disputes shall be resolved through the process set out in Article 29.04. Any dispute with respect to intellectual property that involves any other party not covered by the provisions of the Agreement shall be resolved using the Dispute Resolution procedure of the Intellectual Property policy.
- 29.04 Disputes that may arise with respect to the outcome of the application of the Intellectual Property policy, and for which the parties are solely the Employer and a Faculty Member(s), shall be resolved as follows:
- i. The Faculty Member(s) shall contact the Association to produce a statement, describing the basis for the dispute and the Association shall submit this statement to the Office of the Provost within a calendar month of the last meeting with, or response from, the Employer on the - matter in dispute.

- ii. Within fifteen (15) Days of receipt of this statement, the Office of the Provost shall convene a meeting with the Association and the Faculty Member(s) and two (2) representatives of the Employer in order to determine whether an informal resolution of the matter can be reached.
 - iii. Within ten (10) Days of a meeting under (ii) above which fails to achieve an informal resolution to the matter, the Association shall advise the Office of the Provost that an Intellectual Property Appeal Committee is required. Failing such notice, the matter shall be deemed to have been abandoned.
 - iv. Within ten (10) Days of receipt of notification under iii. above, the Employer and the Association shall each appoint one (1) nominee to the Intellectual Property Appeal Committee.
 - v. The nominees shall confer, within ten (10) Days of the appointment of the second of them, to agree on a Chair of the Intellectual Property Appeal Committee who has experience with intellectual property matters. Failing agreement on a Chair, the Association and the Employer shall jointly appoint a Chair of the Intellectual Property Appeal Committee.
 - vi. The Intellectual Property Appeal Committee shall have the powers of an Arbitrator under the Ontario Labour Relations Act, but has no jurisdiction to alter, amend, add to or subtract from this Agreement or the University Intellectual Property policy or to render a decision inconsistent with the terms of either of them.
 - vii. A decision of an Intellectual Property Appeal Committee shall be final and binding on the Employer, the Association and the Faculty Member(s).
 - viii. Each Party shall pay the fees and expenses of its nominee to an Intellectual Property Appeal Committee and fifty percent (50%) of the fees and expenses of the Chair.

29.05 For clarity, if the Employer exercises its right under the Intellectual Property policy to copy, use or modify a Faculty Member's teaching material, it is the Employer's responsibility to obtain permissions, for any distributions or publications of that teaching material, from any non-faculty authors with copyright in that material. It is the Faculty Member's responsibility to identify such authorship.

Article 30 – No Layoffs for Tenured and Tenure-Track Faculty Members (30.01) and Redeployment, Layoff and Recall Procedures for Teaching Faculty Members (30.02 – 30.20)

No Layoffs for Tenured and Tenure-Track Faculty Members:

30.01 There shall be no layoffs of Faculty Members while this Agreement remains in force.

Redeployment, Layoff and Recall Procedures for Teaching Faculty Members:

30.02 A Faculty Member may relinquish their appointment through retirement or resignation. Layoff pursuant to this Article is not dismissal for cause, under Article 24 (Discipline), and shall not be recorded or reported as such. The Employer may layoff Faculty Members only for the following reasons:

- a) The institution experiences substantial or recurring financial losses which threaten continued functioning of the institution; or
- b) The closure of a program for academic reasons pursuant to a recommendation by Academic Council, a change in institutional mandate, substantial or recurring financial losses within a program, or enrollments that have been demonstrably too low to sustain the program.

30.03 Before a Faculty Member is laid off as a result of conditions under Article 30.02, the Employer shall make all reasonable efforts to avoid such layoff through attrition or through the redeployment of a potentially affected Faculty Member to other work assignments for which they possess the necessary skills, qualifications, expertise and experience. The Employer may require a potentially affected Faculty Member to take reasonable additional training. Costs of such training shall be borne by the Employer.

30.04 The Association shall be given twenty (20) Days' notice of impending layoff prior to notifying a Faculty Member of a layoff as a result of conditions under Article 30.02. The Employer shall meet with the Association to describe the circumstances of the potential layoff and provide documentation of its efforts under Article 30.03. The Parties may discuss and agree to alternative arrangements that meet the operational needs of the Employer and forestall or eliminate the need for the layoff.

- 30.05 Failing such agreement under Article 30.04, the Employer shall provide to the Association a list of the Faculty Members it intends to provide with notice of layoff and proceed with the provision of notice under Article 30.06.
- 30.06 The Employer shall provide the Faculty Member with six (6) months' notice of layoff, in writing. The notice of layoff shall set out the layoff date of the Faculty Member, and shall provide, where possible, specific information on alternative employment arrangements available to the Faculty Member and options related to recall and severance under Article 30.15 to 30.18. The period from the date on the notice of layoff up to and including the layoff date shall be the notice period. If the Faculty Member is not available to receive the notice directly as per Article 8.04, it shall be sent by registered mail to the Faculty Member's current address on the Employer's file and be deemed to have been received two (2) Days later than the date on the registered mail documentation.
- 30.07 Where a reduction of one or more Faculty Members is required, layoff shall take place in the following order:
- First: Faculty Members who do not possess the qualifications, skills, and abilities to meet the continuing program needs.
- Second: Faculty Members without continuing appointments in reverse order of seniority.
- Third: Faculty Members with continuing appointments in reverse order of seniority.
- The Association shall be provided with current seniority lists within each of the categories. If two (2) or more members have equal seniority, the order of layoff shall be decided by lot.
- 30.08 Seniority for the purposes of Article 30.07 shall be accrued on an institution-wide basis for time in a position as a Faculty Member.
- a) A Faculty Member shall begin accruing seniority from the date of hire according to Article 15 (Appointments) if their appointment was after June 30, 2012.
 - b) The seniority of a Faculty Member who began working for the Employer prior to June 30, 2012 shall be based on the following:
 - i. date of hire as a Faculty Member;
 - ii. a Faculty Member hired on a reduced workload shall have their seniority calculated proportionally;

- iii. seniority shall continue to be acquired during the following leaves:
professional development, maternity, parental, adoption, bereavement, compassionate, compassionate care, court, disability;
- iv. seniority shall continue to be acquired through all discipline suspensions, appeals, grievances, and/or arbitrations; and
- v. seniority shall not be acquired during appointments outside the bargaining unit with the exception of an appointment as a member of the UOIT Board of Governors.

c) Loss of Seniority

A Faculty Member shall lose all seniority if the Faculty Member resigns their appointment or is terminated for cause.

- 30.09 During the notice period under Article 30.06, the Employer shall continue its efforts to identify an alternative to layoff that meets its operational needs. When any new continuing and/or limited term positions are created or available, the members on impending layoff shall be notified.
- 30.10 The layoff date of a Faculty Member in receipt of a notice of layoff while on a pregnancy, parental, LTD or WSIB leave shall be the end of the Academic Term in which the Faculty Member returns from the leave.
- 30.11 While a Faculty Member is expected to continue to work as assigned during the notice period, the Employer, at its sole discretion, may excuse the Faculty Member from some or all work obligations during the notice period.
- 30.12 A Faculty Member who resigns or retires during the notice period is not eligible for severance pay under Article 30.17.
- 30.13 During the notice period, a Faculty Member shall be afforded reasonable approved absence with pay for the purpose of seeking employment. Requests for such absences must first be made to the Dean and shall not be unreasonably withheld.
- 30.14 At the end of the notice period, effective on the layoff date set out in the notice of layoff, all Faculty Members who are in receipt of such notice under Article 30.06 shall be eligible either to be placed on a recall list under Article 30.15 or to accept a severance payment under Article 30.17.
- 30.15 All laid off Faculty Members shall have recall rights for two (2) years from the date of the Faculty Member's layoff. The Employer shall provide the Association with a list of any employees who have been laid off and are on recall status.

- 30.16 A Faculty Member shall be recalled to an open position for which they possess the necessary skills, qualifications, expertise and experience. In the event that more than one (1) of the Faculty Members on the recall list are so qualified, the Faculty Member(s) shall be recalled in the reverse order of layoff as set out in Article 30.07.
- 30.17 At the end of the notice period, effective on the layoff date set out in the notice of layoff, all Faculty Members who are in receipt of such notice under Article 30.06 who have not elected to be placed on a recall list under Article 30.15, or whose recall rights under Article 30.15 have expired without the Faculty Member having been recalled, shall receive a severance payment on the basis of one (1) month's base salary per complete year of employment with the Employer at the Faculty Member's then current salary rate to a maximum of six (6) months' salary. An employee who refuses a recall for a Faculty position is not eligible for severance under this Article.
- 30.18 The Employer shall provide Faculty Members who elect to accept severance pay at the end of the layoff notice period rather than be placed on the recall list under Article 30.15, or whose recall rights have expired without recall, with a severance letter that sets out the extent of the Faculty Member's eligibility for any benefits under the Agreement.
- 30.19 If the employment of a Faculty Member is terminated for cause, under Article 24 (Discipline), no notice shall be given and no severance shall be paid.
- 30.20 The Association shall have the right to take all grievances arising from this Article directly to Step 2 of the Grievance Process in Article 11.06 b).

Article 31 – Term

- 31.01 This Agreement shall continue in force and effect until June 30, 2021 and thereafter shall automatically renew itself for periods of one (1) year each unless either Party notifies the other in writing within the period of three (3) months prior to the expiry date of this Agreement that it desires to amend or terminate it.
- 31.02 If, pursuant to the notice provided in Article 31.01, an agreement is not reached on the renewal or amendment of this Agreement, or the making of a new Agreement prior to the current expiry date, this Agreement shall continue in full force and effect until a new Agreement is signed by the Parties or until the conciliation process prescribed under the Labour Relations Act has been completed, whichever date should first occur.

Signed this 23rd day of February, 2019.

Health Spending Account (HSA)

Each January 1st, the Employer shall deposit an amount in accordance with Appendix "A" into a Health Spending Account (HSA) in the Faculty Member's name. The Employer shall provide credits equal to two percent (2%) of pensionable earnings that may be directed to the UOIT DCPD or to the HSA in increments of half a percent (0.5%), as applicable. Through the HSA, a Faculty Member can pay for eligible health care expenses not fully covered by the UOIT Benefits Plan. The Employer shall make available the amount set out in Appendix "A", effective January 1 of each calendar year for limited term Faculty Members, plus any additional amount as directed by the limited term Faculty Member if they are members of the UOIT DCPD in Article 26.02 a).

The benefit of using the HSA to pay for health care expenses is that, by doing so, Faculty Members use before-tax contributions from the Employer, rather than their own after-tax income. The money the Employer deposits in a Faculty Member's HSA is not subject to federal or provincial taxes. The HSA also provides reimbursement for a broader range of health care services such as prescription sunglasses, laser eye surgery, orthodontia expenses above plan maximums, coinsurance amounts, and prescription drugs not covered under the plan and are eligible medical expenses under the Income Tax Act of Canada. A list of all eligible HSA expenses are available from Human Resources.

The CRA provides Faculty Members a tax break on this account for two (2) full calendar years. If the Faculty Member does not use the full HSA balance by the end of the two (2) calendar years, any residual HSA amounts must be forfeited as required under Canada Revenue Agency rules.

Disability Benefits for Tenured and Tenure-Track and Teaching Faculty Members

If a Faculty Member is unable to work because of illness or injury, the Employer offers two (2) plans that provide Faculty Members with income protection – the short-term disability plan and the long-term disability plan.

Short-Term Disability (STD) for Tenured and Tenure-Track and Teaching Faculty Members

STD pays a percentage of a Faculty Member's base salary due to illness or injury, for up to fifty-two (52) weeks (one hundred percent (100%) of a Faculty Member's base salary for the first twenty-six (26) weeks, followed by seventy-five percent (75%) of base salary for up to an additional twenty-six (26) weeks). The Faculty Members entitlement to the STD benefit is subject to meeting the eligibility and/or qualifying criteria under the applicable terms of the STD Plan.

Long-Term Disability (LTD) for Tenured and Tenure-Track and Teaching Faculty Members

Once a Faculty Member's fifty-two (52) weeks of STD benefits have finished, they may qualify for LTD coverage that provides them with income protection for the duration of their disability. Since Faculty Members pay for this coverage any benefits received from the plan are tax free. The formula below is designed to provide eighty-five percent (85%) of a Faculty Member's pre-disability net income (up to a maximum benefit of $8,000/month). LTD benefits in excess of $8,000.00 up to a maximum of $10,000.00 are available upon submission of proof of good health to the insurance carrier.

66.67% of the first $27,000 of base salary + 58% of the next $36,000 of base salary + 46% of the balance of base salary

Life Insurance for Tenured and Tenure-Track and Teaching Faculty Members

The Benefits Plan offers several types of insurance for a Faculty Member, their spouse and/or child(ren). If a Faculty Member chooses employee and/or spouse's optional life insurance coverage, the Faculty Member may be required, by the Insurance Carrier, to provide evidence of insurability.

A) Employee Basic Life Insurance for Tenured and Tenure-Track and Teaching Faculty Members

Through the basic life insurance benefits, a Faculty Member automatically receives coverage equivalent to:

- One (1) times the Faculty Member's base salary

The premiums for this coverage are one hundred percent (100%) paid for by the Employer. The maximum basic life insurance benefit is $250,000.

B) Employee Optional Life Insurance for Tenured and Tenure-Track and Teaching Faculty Members

In addition to the basic life insurance provided by the Employer, a Faculty Member can purchase additional life insurance coverage for themselves through payroll deductions. The maximum optional life insurance benefit coverage available is:

- up to $750,000 of employee optional life insurance coverage in units of $10,000.

C) Spouse and Child(ren)'s Optional Life Insurance for Tenured and Tenure-Track and Teaching Faculty Members

A Faculty Member can purchase optional life insurance coverage for their spouse and/or dependent child(ren). The Faculty Member pays for the cost of this coverage through payroll deductions. The maximum optional life insurance coverage available for spouse's and child(ren)'s are:

- up to $500,000 for the spouse's optional life insurance coverage in units of $10,000
- up to $15,000 for the children's optional life insurance coverage in units of $5,000

Accidental Death and Dismemberment (AD&D) for Tenured and Tenure-Track and Teaching Faculty Members

AD&D Insurance provides coverage should a Faculty Member or a covered dependent die or become seriously injured as the result of an accident. Through the Benefits Plan, Faculty Members have access to AD&D for themselves, their spouse and/or dependent child(ren).

A) Employee Basic Accidental Death and Dismemberment (AD&D) Insurance for Tenured and Tenure-Track and Teaching Faculty Members

Through the basic AD&D insurance benefit, a Faculty Member automatically receives coverage equivalent to:

- one (1) times the Faculty Member's base salary.

The premiums for this coverage are one hundred percent (100%) paid for by the Employer. The maximum basic AD&D insurance benefit is $250,000.

B) Employee Optional Accidental Death and Dismemberment (AD&D) Insurance for Tenured and Tenure-Track and Teaching Faculty Members

In addition to the basic AD&D insurance benefit, a Faculty Member can purchase additional AD&D insurance coverage for themselves through payroll deductions. The optional coverage available is:

- up to $500,000 of employee optional AD&D insurance coverage in units of $10,000.

C) Spouse and Child(ren)'s Optional Accidental Death and Dismemberment (AD&D) Insurance for Tenured and Tenure-Track and Teaching Faculty Members

If a Faculty Member decides to purchase AD&D insurance coverage for their spouse and/or dependent child(ren), the Faculty Member shall pay for the cost of this coverage through payroll deductions. The optional AD&D spouse's and child(ren)'s coverage available is:

- up to $250,000 of spouse's optional AD&D insurance coverage in units of $10,000
- up to $25,000 of children's optional AD&D insurance coverage in units of $5,000

UOIT Defined Contribution Pension Plan (UOIT DCP)

The UOIT DCP is a defined contribution plan where the eligible Faculty Member and the Employer work together to help build a Faculty Member's retirement savings.

How the Plan Works

Contributions by UOIT

Under the UOIT DCP, there are two (2) components to the Employer's contribution:

- 1) A basic contribution of six percent (6%) in 2018, seven percent (7%) in 2019, and seven and a half percent (7.5%) in 2020 of the Faculty Member's pensionable earnings, and
- 2) A supplemental contribution of two percent (2%) of a Faculty Member's pensionable earnings.

Through the supplemental component of the University's contribution, each year a Faculty Member shall have the flexibility to decide how to direct part or all of the Employer's two percent (2%) supplemental contribution (in 0.5% increments) to either the UOIT DCP or as credits to the HSA. The Employer's contributions to the UOIT DCP are immediately vested (i.e. a Faculty Member immediately owns these contributions). The Faculty Member contributions are immediately vested as well.

Under the Income Tax Act, there is a limit on combined Faculty Member and Employer contributions to the UOIT DCP ($27,230 in 2019) This limit shall change annually and further information is available through Human Resources. Any Employer contributions in excess of this limit shall be directed to a notional account known as the University's Supplemental Retirement Arrangement.

Contributions by the Faculty Member

In addition to the Employer's contribution, each year a tenured, tenure-track, teaching, or eligible limited-term Faculty Member shall be required to make a contribution of three percent (3%) in 2018, three and a half percent (3.5%) in 2019, and three and three quarters percent (3.75%) in 2020 of their pensionable earnings to the plan. A Faculty Member may also decide to make voluntary contributions to the plan of one percent (1%), two percent (2%), or three percent (3%) of their pensionable earnings.

Year	Basic UOIT Contribution		Supplemental UOIT Contribution		Required Faculty Contribution		Voluntary Faculty Contribution		Total
2018	6%	+	0% to 2% (as elected by the Faculty Member)	+	3%	+	0% to 3% (as elected by the Faculty Member)	=	9% to 14%
2019	7%	+	0% to 2% (as elected by the Faculty Member)	+	3.5%	+	0% to 3% (as elected by the Faculty Member)	=	10.5% to 15.5%
2020	7.5%	+	0% to 2% (as elected by the Faculty Member)	+	3.75%	+	0% to 3% (as elected by the Faculty Member)	=	11.25% to 16.25%

Investing Contributions to the UOIT DCP

A Faculty Member decides how their contributions and the Employer's contributions are invested by selecting from a list of investment funds offered in the UOIT DCP. Sun Life Financial is the custodian and record-keeper of the UOIT DCP and they shall register and track a Faculty Member's investment choices and account balances.

Receiving Your Pension

When a Faculty Member retires or leaves the University, they shall be able to transfer their account balance from the UOIT DCP to a locked-in retirement account or use their balance to purchase an annuity. Any voluntary contributions a Faculty Member has made to the UOIT DCP are not "locked-in" and can be withdrawn in cash, subject to the applicable taxes, or transferred to a non-locked-in registered investment vehicle in which case taxes are not withheld.

In the event of the death of a Faculty Member prior to retirement, the balance of the UOIT DCPD shall be paid to their spouse, where there is a spouse, or where there is no spouse to the beneficiary designated by the Faculty Member, or to their estate if no beneficiary is designated.

Appendix “D” – Intellectual Property

Preamble

The university believes that efforts to increase and to communicate knowledge are at the heart of academic endeavors. Often these endeavors will result in the creation of Intellectual Property that may be of benefit to the broader society. In general, the university believes that the creators of intellectual property should retain rights in it in cases where the creators are academic personnel. Normally, when the creators are non-academic personnel, the university will claim all rights to intellectual property because it assumes that it was created in the course of the creators' employment with the university, or was commissioned by the university. The university also believes that significant investments of university funds should not be exploited solely for private gain. Accordingly, the goal of these policies is to encourage the creation of intellectual property, and to facilitate its development and commercialization, while ensuring that the academic freedom and interests of university personnel, and of the university itself, are safeguarded.

Applicability

These intellectual property policies apply to all university personnel who make or develop intellectual property using university support. They also apply, with necessary changes, to external contractors if the terms of their contracts with the university do not specify ownership of the intellectual property produced under the terms of the contract.

These policies do not apply to intellectual property created by independent efforts, in the course of demonstrably private research, or in the course of private consulting activities to outside bodies, when such activities do not involve any substantial use of university support, and where the university has approved such consulting activities.

Definitions

Terms used in these policies are defined in Appendix A.

1. Policy on Ownership and Acknowledgement of Intellectual Property

1.1 Ownership

Subject to the exceptions and limitations herein, the university's policy is that academic personnel should own the intellectual property created by them in the course of their teaching, research and academic work.

Exceptions to the above are as follows:

- a) The university retains ownership of intellectual property resulting from projects specifically commissioned by the university.
- b) In externally-sponsored or contract research activities, ownership of intellectual property may be determined in whole or in part by regulations of the sponsor or the terms of the contract. University personnel participating in these research activities must be made aware of any such regulations or contract terms by the principal investigator (i.e. the leader of the research project).

The university owns intellectual property created by non-academic personnel in the course of their employment.

1.2 License

To the extent that ownership of intellectual property governed by these policies is vested in university personnel, such intellectual property is subject to a perpetual, non-exclusive, royalty-free, irrevocable license in favour of the university for teaching (including distance and continuing education), research and academic purposes. Such licenses are subject to the exceptions and limitations contained in these policies, including the right of the creator in certain circumstances to require discontinuance of use after five years.

1.3 Responsibilities

One of the responsibilities of researchers is the obligation to ensure that their work is published or publicly disseminated in some manner. At the university, this responsibility is shared by all material contributors to the work. In reporting scholarly research results, all creators of a publication must examine and accept responsibility for its contents, and all members of a research team must ensure that appropriate credit be given for the contributions of all contributors.

1.4 Recognition

Creators of a publication comprise all, and only, those individuals who have made a significant intellectual or scholarly contribution to the work reported, and without whose contribution the work would not be complete. All contributors to research projects and other scholarly works must receive appropriate recognition for their contributions. The order of listing of contributors should follow existing traditions of the discipline. No decisions concerning the publication or licensing of a work may be made without the unanimous agreement of all the creators. Depending on the nature of a contribution, appropriate recognition may take the form of, but is not limited to, recognition as a creator, or recognition through an acknowledgement or citation. An administrative relationship to the investigator(s) does not merit credit, nor is financial support sufficient on its own to merit such credit.

1.5 Acknowledgement of the University

In reporting their work, university personnel shall acknowledge the University of Ontario Institute of Technology for the support it provided. In the spirit of collegiality, creators of intellectual property are encouraged to recognize the university's support through a financial contribution.

1.6 Use of the University's Name and Marks

In order to protect its reputation, the university must control the use of its name and marks. This requirement is especially important in the context of non-university sponsored commercialization of intellectual property. Under no circumstances may the university be presented, directly or indirectly, as endorsing or warranting a particular product. Accordingly, any use of the university's name or any university-owned mark in connection with any product, service, research project or work, apart from indication of the institutional affiliation of the creator(s), requires explicit written permission from the university's Associate Provost, Research.

For additional information on the use of the university's marks, please refer to the Guidelines on Use of the University's Marks, which can be found on the university website.

1.7 Third-Party Rights

University personnel are expected to respect third-party intellectual property rights. This obligation precludes the unauthorized use, reproduction, modification, translation or adaptation of software, photocopied textbooks, and the like, unless permission has been obtained from the copyright holder.

For additional information, please refer to the Integrity in Research and Scholarship Policy, which can be found on the university website.

1.8 Collaborative Research

The university encourages researchers to share information and to work in collaboration with others, where this is likely to advance the state of knowledge. Collaboration agreements between academic personnel and researchers at outside institutions, agencies, and companies must specify, in advance and in writing, how the process by which the rights to intellectual property arising out of the collaboration will be determined. The determination of rights shall be based on the extent and nature of the contribution, and not on differences in power or rank. The rights of students involved in research projects, particularly with respect to recognition and the assignment of grades must be protected. Where university facilities and/or funds administered by the university are involved, the university must be a party to the agreement. Any waiver or modification of rights requires informed consent.

1.9 Further Information

These policies are not intended to provide a general explanation of the legal principles and practical implications associated with intellectual property. For a general explanation, please refer to the Guidelines on Intellectual Property, which can be found on the university website.

2. Policy on Copyright and Patents

2.1 Copyright

The general principles regarding copyright in works created by university personnel is stated in Policy 1.1.

In addition to the provisions of Policy 1.1, the university's grant of copyright ownership in scholarly works created by academic personnel in the course of teaching, research and academic activities shall be subject to the condition that the creator(s) shall grant the university a perpetual, non-exclusive, royalty-free, irrevocable license to copy, use and modify such works in teaching (including distance and continuing education), research and academic activities within the university. The creator(s) shall waive all moral rights in the works to the extent necessary to exercise such license rights.

The creator(s) may, however, after five years discontinue the university's license in the works due to the content of the works becoming out-of-date or being in the judgment of the creator acting reasonably, inappropriately used by the university. Evidence of the reasons for discontinuance must be provided by the creator to the Associate Provost, Research. If the discontinuance is denied by the Associate Provost, Research, the creator has the right to appeal such a denial under the provisions of Article 8.

Under special circumstances involving creators' rights to the special and proprietary intellectual content of the works in question, creators have the right to request exemption of some or all of these works from this provision. If such a request is denied by the Associate Provost, Research, the creator has the right to appeal such a denial under the provisions of Article 8.

2.2 Patents

The general principles regarding Patent rights in Inventions created by university personnel is stated in Policy 1.1.

In addition to the provisions of Policy 1.1, the ownership by university personnel of Patent rights in Inventions created by them shall be subject to the following conditions:

- a) The creator(s) shall grant the university a perpetual, non-exclusive, royalty-free, irrevocable license to make, use, and sell such patented or patentable Inventions solely for the university's teaching (including distance and continuing education), research and academic activities.
- b) The creator(s) shall keep the university informed about all patent filings in Canada and other countries through annual activity reports or other appropriate means.

3. Policy on Teaching Materials, Computer Software, and Databases

3.1 Teaching Materials

The issue of ownership of teaching materials is especially complex when it involves course content and materials which are a product of academic research, and therefore owned by the faculty member, but the presentation of which is significantly contributed to by non-academic personnel of the university from the Centre of Academic Excellence and Innovation and elsewhere, and is therefore to that extent owned by the university. Accordingly, there is particular need for clear policies and procedures to determine who will share in any benefits resulting from the development and commercialization of such intellectual property.

Notwithstanding Policy 1.1, the grant of ownership of copyright in teaching materials to the academic personnel who create these materials is limited. Copyright ownership of teaching materials, the creation of which was significantly contributed to by non-academic personnel, is shared equally by the creator(s) and the university. In the event that such teaching materials are commercialized, the provisions of Article 6 will apply.

In addition to the provisions of Policy 1.1, the university's grant of copyright ownership in teaching materials shall be subject to the condition that, to the extent the creator(s) have rights in such teaching materials, they shall grant the university a perpetual, non-exclusive, royalty-free, irrevocable license to copy, use and modify such teaching materials in teaching (including distance and continuing education), research and academic activities within the university. The creator(s) shall waive all moral rights in the teaching materials to the extent necessary to exercise such license rights.

The creator(s) may, however, after five years discontinue the university's license in the teaching materials due to the content of the teaching materials becoming out-of-date or being inappropriately used by the university. Evidence of the reasons for discontinuance must be provided by the creator to the Associate Provost, Research. If the discontinuance is denied by the Associate Provost, Research, the creator has the right to appeal such a denial under the provisions of Article 8.

Under special circumstances involving creators' rights to the special and proprietary intellectual content of the teaching materials in question, creators have the right to request exemption of some or all of these teaching materials from this provision. If such a request is denied by the Associate Provost, Research, the creator has the right to appeal such a denial under the provisions of Article 8.

3.2 Computer Software

Notwithstanding Policy 1.1, the grant of ownership of copyright in computer software to the academic personnel who create these materials is limited. Copyright ownership of computer software, the creation of which was significantly contributed to by non-academic personnel, is shared equally by the creator(s) and the university. In the event that such computer software is commercialized, the provisions of Article 6 will apply.

In addition to the provisions of Policy 1.1, the university's grant of copyright ownership in computer software shall be subject to the following conditions:

- a) To the extent the creator(s) have rights in such computer software, the creator(s) shall grant the university a perpetual, non-exclusive, royalty-free, irrevocable license to copy, use and modify such computer software in teaching (including distance and continuing education), research and academic activities within the university. The creator(s) shall waive all moral rights in the computer software to the extent necessary to exercise such license rights.
- b) The creator(s) shall provide the university with all source code, object code and relevant documentation, together with all updates thereto from time to time, in respect of the computer software for the purposes of the license rights granted in paragraph (a) above.

3.3 Data and Database Management

Databases created in the course of research may be copyrightable and thus fall under the copyright policy (See Article 2.1).

This Policy is concerned with the ownership of, and the right to use, original data collected or measured in the course of teaching, academic and research activities involving academic personnel. It is not concerned with data from external sources used in research at the university, other than to assert the obligation that publications or theses using such data must recognize and fully document their sources.

Academic personnel have the obligation to protect and preserve, for a reasonable period (defined by the norms of the discipline), and to make available to other scholars and non-commercial users, the data on which their work is based.

Ownership of data assembled by academic personnel in the course of their research may be contentious and, because access to it is important for research and scholarship, ownership shall be jointly held by the university and the creator(s), notwithstanding Policy 1.1, subject to the following conditions:

- a) To the extent that the creator(s) have rights in such data, the creator(s) grant the university a perpetual, non-exclusive, royalty-free, irrevocable license to copy and use any or all such data in teaching (including distance and continuing education), research and academic activities within the university.
- b) The creator(s) shall make available the resulting data set(s), after completion and publication of the thesis or paper on which the data set is based, to other university personnel for royalty-free, non-commercial use in teaching, research and academic activities within the university.

Notwithstanding the above, all university personnel have the collegial obligation to allow the owner(s) of such data a first opportunity to exploit those data for published work.

Exceptions to these rules are allowed only when the research is subject to confidentiality requirements due to contractual arrangements with a sponsoring agency, to publication delays associated with patent applications, or to university ethics constraints on research involving human subjects or animals which are contained in the Research Ethics Policy and Procedures, which can be found on the university's website. In the case of contractual limitations, all collaborators must be made aware of, and agree in advance to, such constraints.

4. Policy on Contract Research

4.1 Ownership of Intellectual Property in Contract Research

In externally-sponsored or contract research activities, ownership of intellectual property rights may be determined in whole or in part by the regulations of the sponsor, or by the terms of the contract. Consistent with the university's policies on Research, which can be found on the university website, academic personnel must retain the right to publish their work within a reasonable period, and to use the results of the research in subsequent projects, recognising the limitations that may derive from proprietary data, and must adhere to the academic and professional standards of their disciplines. All academic personnel participating in such research activities must be made aware of any ownership stipulations of the contract by the principal investigator, or by any other designated leader of the research project.

Guidelines on reasonable limitations/exceptions are:

- a) University personnel entering into a relationship that will limit their enjoyment of normal academic benefits of their research must enter into it with informed consent.
- b) Externally sponsored or contract research contracts will be negotiated by the Associate Provost, Research in consultation with the academic personnel proposing to undertake such research activities.
- c) In situations where companies or agencies that fund research retain ownership of intellectual property generated by that research, some other academic benefit must be derived. That is, the research must support the generation and dissemination of knowledge in some other way (for example, by funding laboratories that directly support other research). Whether any agreement for sponsored research will result in academic benefit to the academic personnel and the university will be decided by the Associate Provost, Research in consultation with the academic personnel and the appropriate Dean. Decisions of the Associate Provost, Research may be appealed under the provisions of Article 8.
- d) It is the responsibility of academic personnel to ensure that the terms of their consulting agreements with third parties, which must have the approval of the Associate Provost, Research do not conflict with their commitments to the university. Each individual must make the nature of her/his obligations to the university clear to any third party for whom she/he expects to consult.

4.2 Confidential Disclosure Agreements

A Confidential Disclosure Agreement [CDA], sometimes referred to as a secrecy, confidentiality or non-disclosure agreement, is used when one party wishes to disclose confidential information to a second party, but wishes the second party to maintain the confidentiality of the information. Non-disclosure provisions can either stand alone as a separate agreement or be incorporated into a broader agreement.

In the event that a corporate sponsor wishes academic personnel to use confidential information, or that academic personnel wish to disclose confidential information, such as a patent application, to a third party, a CDA must be entered into to protect both parties.

All CDAs must be submitted to the Associate Provost, Research for review. If the terms of a CDA extend to other participants in a project or activity, it is the responsibility of the principal investigator to inform all participants of their obligations under the CDA and, if necessary, to develop CDAs for them.

4.3 Material Transfer Agreements

Materials, for example biological materials, are often distributed by scientists to their colleagues for a variety of purposes, such as duplication and confirmation of experimental results or evaluation of the material for alternate uses. Such intellectual property is an important factor in attracting research funding. For this reason, the university will help academic personnel review Material Transfer Agreements [MTAs] and other agreements that arise out of their interaction with industry. All such agreements must be approved by the Associate Provost, Research. In all cases, the university requires researchers to sign an MTA to ensure that these materials are used only for scientific research and not for commercial applications. If the material is being transferred for commercial application, its use shall be governed by a license agreement.

Each MTA requires university authorization and an authorized university signature. academic personnel must enter into an MTA prior to distributing or receiving any such materials.

Because MTAs often contain restrictions on intellectual property and publication, all MTAs must be submitted to the Associate Provost, Research for review. If the terms and conditions of the MTA are unacceptable to the university, the Associate Provost, Research, in consultation with the researcher, will attempt to negotiate other terms acceptable to all parties.

5. Other Types of Intellectual Property

Other types of intellectual property in Canada and other jurisdictions include industrial designs, trade-marks, domain names, integrated circuit topographies, plant breeders' rights and trade secret rights. While different types of intellectual property have different rules and requirements governing their protection, these types of intellectual property follow the same philosophy as outlined in Policy 1.

If you have any questions concerning other types of intellectual property and the university's Policies, please contact the Associate Provost, Research.

6. Policy on the Commercialization of Intellectual Property

6.1 Timely Disclosure

Academic Personnel who have developed intellectual property which they intend to commercialize must inform the Associate Provost, Research in advance, in writing, and in a timely way of their intentions. Such disclosure must include the nature of the intellectual property, the names of all co-creators, the source of funding for the research project out of which the intellectual property emerged, and any other relevant information. At the time of disclosure, the university will inform the creator(s) that they may commercialize the intellectual property themselves, or may offer it to the university to commercialize, and will provide sources of information about those options.

6.2 Commercialization by the Creators

When creator(s) elect to commercialize the intellectual property, they assume responsibility for legally protecting and marketing it, finding a licensee, negotiating a license agreement, and administering that agreement. Any such license agreement must contain full and complete releases and indemnification in favour of the university, with respect to the commercialized intellectual property. Such creator(s) will pay the university 25% of Net Revenues arising from the intellectual property or 10% of Gross Revenue, whichever is greater, on an annual basis.

Any such intellectual property shall remain subject to the license and other rights of the university under these policies.

Where Academic and non-academic personnel are co-creators of an intellectual property and where the university has not waived its ownership rights as the employer of such non-academic personnel, then the university's Associate Provost, Research shall represent the university's interest in all matters related to this intellectual property, including but not limited to Patents, sale, licensing or any other commercialization activity.

If creators pursue commercialization on their own, the university is not responsible for any legal, development, marketing and other costs they may incur, including patent prosecutions.

6.3 Commercialization by the University

Creator(s), at their option, may offer the intellectual property to the university for commercialization. The university retains the absolute and sole right to determine if it wishes to accept such intellectual property for commercialization.

Before the university accepts any assignment, it may seek a commercial and/or technical assessment. Prior to the university conducting any such assessment, the university shall require the creator(s) to enter into an agreement with the following terms and conditions:

- a) If the university accepts the offer, then the creator(s) agree to assign all intellectual property Rights and other rights to the university, including assignments of Patents, if any. The university shall thereafter deal with such rights, including any further assignment to some specialized external agency, as it deems most expedient. The university shall assume sole responsibility and authority for legally protecting and marketing the intellectual property, finding a licensee or buyer, determining the terms of the license or sale, negotiating a license or sale agreement, and administering that agreement. The university shall retain 75% of Net Revenue arising from the intellectual property, and the creator(s) shall receive 25%, payable on an annual basis, unless the university and the creator(s) agree to a fixed percentage of Gross Revenue that is of equal or greater value for the university.
- b) If, because of this assessment, the university decides not to act to protect and/or commercialize the rights to the intellectual property, these rights shall be returned to the creator(s).
- c) If, the university has accepted the assignment of the intellectual property and if, after a period of two years from the later of the date of such assignment (or if a Patent is involved, the date of issuance of the Patent), the rights to the intellectual property have not been assigned or licensed, they may be, at the creator's request, assigned back to the creator, in return for an agreement by the creator to: (1) reimburse the university for all Development Expenses prior to any distribution of revenues, and (2) pay to the university 25 % of the Net Revenue arising from the intellectual property or 10% of Gross Revenue, whichever is greater, on an annual basis.

University personnel are not obliged to use the university's services, nor is the university obliged to take on any intellectual property brought to it.

7. Administration and Amendments

Subject to the dispute resolution provision set out in Article 8, the Associate Provost, Research is responsible for the administration of this Policy. The Associate Provost, Research is also responsible for making determinations regarding various matters referred to in this Policy, including determining time periods, limitations on ownership rights, what constitutes private research, and ownership rights of academic personnel conducting externally-sponsored or research activities.

It is the responsibility of the Associate Provost, Research to review and evaluate these policies on an annual basis. Any changes to these policies that the Associate Provost, Research recommends, shall be provided to the Board of Governors of the university for consideration.

8. Dispute Resolution

The university recognizes that disputes may arise between the university and Academic or non-academic personnel and students with respect to intellectual property and the implementation of these Policies.

When an agreement cannot be reached between the university's Associate Provost, Research and the creator, the dispute will be referred to an internal three-person panel consisting of persons respected within the community for their knowledge of intellectual property issues.

The panel, whose membership will be nominated by the President and approved by the Academic Council, will attempt to resolve the dispute through mediation but, if that fails, will arbitrate.

The decision of the panel is final and binding and is not subject to appeal.

Letter of Understanding #1 re Employment Equity

The Parties agree to the principle of employment equity for all Faculty Members and to correcting any effects of systemic discrimination at the University.

Systemic discrimination occurs where legislation, societal systems, policies, practices, and behaviours that appear to be fair and equitable but have unintentionally disadvantageous effects in their operation and outcome on persons who are identified by a prohibited ground of discrimination as set out in Article 10.01.

To study systemic discrimination as described above, recommend corrective action to the Employer and the Association, and monitor the progress and outcomes of initiatives taken, the Parties shall strike an eight (8) person joint standing Committee on Employment Equity (the CEE) composed of four (4) appointees from each of the Employer and the Association. The CEE shall set its own frequency of meeting and methods of study, leading, quorum, and note-keeping. The representatives of either Party may call a meeting of the CEE on seven (7) Days' Written Notice.

The CEE shall identify, report, and recommend to the Parties, within four (4) months of being struck, unless additional time is agreed to by the Parties, on the following:

- Equity-related data collection tools currently being utilized at other institutions in the process of hiring new Faculty Members and equity-related data collection tools for regularly gathering and analyzing data for existing Faculty Members;
- Literature on existing and emerging best practices related to employment equity on university campuses.

Following the completion of the initial report the CEE shall also review:

- Appropriate means to gather and analyze the data necessary to identify and/or measure various aspects or manifestations of systemic discrimination;
- Whether actions and initiatives taken by other universities and faculty associations provide guidance or ideas that may be applicable to the University context;
- Which groups should be identified as designated groups for the purpose of corrective measures.
- Relevant emerging information from the President's Task Force on Equity, Diversity and Inclusion.
- The areas of the employment system, including but not limited to hiring and career review processes of Faculty Members at the University, which may manifest, or which are susceptible to, the effects of systemic discrimination.

Following completion of the aforementioned review, the CEE shall write a report which includes recommendations for actions and initiatives that the Parties, jointly and severally, can take to constructively and positively address employment equity issues at the University and how progress may be measured in achieving change in these regards. Such actions may result in revised procedures concerning appointment, tenure, continuing appointment, and promotion of Faculty Members. The report shall be presented to the Parties who may seek clarity and understanding of the recommendations from the CEE.

The Parties shall also meet to consider whether and how they will implement any or all of the report's recommendations and work to reach agreement on any adjustments, waivers, or accommodations that may be needed in the Agreement or in the Employer's systems, in order to effect implementation of the report's recommendations. The result of this process shall be the Employment Equity Action Plan (EEAP). The EEAP report shall be presented to the President's Task Force on Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion for consideration relative to broader University initiatives. The EEAP shall be implemented within one (1) year of the ratification of this Agreement unless otherwise agreed to by the Parties.

The Employer shall facilitate fact-finding and surveying of its faculty workforce as reasonably requested by the CEE. The Parties shall agree within six (6) months of the ratification of this Agreement to a self-identification survey for Faculty Members which shall be implemented by the Employer at least annually. The Parties further agree to develop and/or adopt employment equity training for hiring and career review committees.

With an EEAP determined, the CEE shall be charged by the Parties with regularly observing, measuring, and reporting to the Parties on the progress of the Parties in meeting the initial and subsequent EEAP's objectives. The CEE shall determine any changes it may require to its operation during this maintenance phase and the appropriate frequency and form of observing, measuring, and reporting on various employment equity topics to the Parties. The CEE shall also determine whether there are new circumstances requiring it to review and adjust its initial recommendations to address employment equity concerns.

Letter of Understanding #2 re Intellectual Property

Whereas the University is currently reviewing its Intellectual Property policy with a view to revising it, and whereas the current policy is the subject matter of Article 29 and appended to the Agreement as an Appendix, the Parties agree to the following process:

- 1) The collegial committee now established and known as the Intellectual Property Policy Committee (IPPC) and charged with reviewing the IP policy shall continue in its work and under its mandate without alteration to the composition and appointments to the committee. The comments and recommendations provided by any consultative or deliberative body shall be brought forward to the IPPC for consideration, and incorporation as deemed appropriate by the membership of the IPPC;
- 2) Any changes to 1) shall only be by mutual agreement;
- 3) After a revised IP policy has been developed and recommended by the IPPC to Academic Council and Academic Council has recommended the revised IP policy for approval, with or without changes, the Parties shall meet to determine whether any further changes are in order for the IP policy not to be in conflict with the Agreement. The Parties shall each appoint four (4) members and one (1) co-chair from these members to conduct this review who shall be mandated to conclusively decide what changes are needed for this purpose;
- 4) The Provost shall recommend to Academic Council that it accept any changes recommended by the Parties through this process;
- 5) The resultant revised IP policy shall be recommended by Academic Council for approval by the University's Board of Governors;
- 6) From the date the revised IP policy is adopted by the Board of Governors it may, with the agreement of the Association, replace the currently appended policy in the Appendix of the Agreement.

Letter of Understanding #3 re Continued Email and Library Privileges

Upon application by the Faculty Member and approval by the Office of the Provost, the Faculty Member's University email account may continue after a Faculty Member leaves employment at the University for reasons other than retirement. Continued email privileges will be at the discretion of the Employer and subject to the University's policies and procedures regarding email usage.

A Faculty Member who has retired from the University has the right to continued email privileges, to attend the library and have access privileges in accordance with the University's policies and procedures as they may exist from time to time.

Letter of Understanding #4 re Student Course Feedback Surveys

The University and the Association established a joint working group to examine student course feedback surveys. The working group reviewed the current tool and its use and provided recommendations on amendments, and how the instrument should be used and recorded for various purposes.

The Parties appointed a six (6) person working group on course feedback surveys composed of three (3) appointees from each of the Employer and the Association. The working group reported to the Parties in July 2017. The report of the working group was presented to the Parties at a special meeting of the Joint Committee.

The Parties shall continue to consider the recommendations in the report and implement any revisions to documents or process agreed to by the Parties. Until implementation of changes, the version of course feedback survey results that is held on a Faculty Member's Official File shall not include specific student comments, and specific student comments shall not be used for the purposes of evaluation under Articles 19, 20, 21, 22 and 23*. A full version including student comments shall be available to the Faculty Member and the Faculty Member's Dean only for formative purposes.

*comments were again included effective July 12, 2017 after recommendations were approved by the Parties

Letter of Understanding #5 re Office Space Working Group

The University and the Association shall establish a joint working group to examine office space for Faculty Members. The working group shall review current office space assignment and provide recommendations on the designation of office space for Faculty Members.

The working group shall be struck following ratification of the Agreement. The Parties will appoint a six (6) person working group on office space composed of three (3) appointees from each of the Employer and the Association. The working group shall report to the Parties within twelve (12) months of being struck, unless additional time is agreed to by the Parties.

The report of the working group shall be presented to the Parties at a special meeting of the Joint Committee. The Parties shall consider the recommendations in the report and implement any revisions to the office space process agreed to by the Parties.

During the period between ratification of this Agreement and implementation of any changes, the Employer shall make every reasonable effort to provide private office space for Faculty Members.

Letter of Understanding #6 re Salary Anomaly Review Committee

The Parties shall establish a bilateral committee to review salary anomalies within the Bargaining Unit.
